THE TRIAL.

In the trial of the assassination conspirators yesterday some very important evidence was produced by the prosecution relative to the burning by rebels of national army hospitals and steamboats on the Western and Southern waters engaged in carrying troops and army supplies.

Edward Frazer, a resident of St. Louis, testified in regard to these matters, giving the names of the incendiaries, who had authorized for their work from Richmond, and who were also members of the Order of American Knights. Frazer also gave the names of the steamers which had been burned by these men. For burning the army hospital at Nashville, Tenn., in the year 1864, one of these commissioned rebel incendiaries, a man named Dillingham, presented his claim to the rebel government in Richmond. Frazer stated that he was in Richmond in August, 1864, in company with some of these rebel agents, and had conferences with Jeff. Davis, Benjamin, his Secretary of State, and Seldon, Secretary of War, in regard to these incendiary operations. One of the claims for steamboat burning was settled by Benjamin for fifty thousand dollars. Davis wanted the burners to take thirty thousand dollars for their job; but they would not.

Witnesses were produced by the defence for the purpose of showing that Dr. Mudd had expressed regret at the President's assassination; that Atterton was a coward, and therefore not likely to be engaged in such a plot, and that Daniel J. Thomas and Marcus P. Norton, two witnesses for the government, were not to be believed.

THE SITUATION.

Lieutenant General Grant left this city at an early hour yesterday morning, for West Point, on board the steamboat Henry Burden, accompanied by his wife, General Auger, General Seth Williams and the members of his staff. He reached West Point about half past ten o'clock in the forenoon, and was of course most enthusiastically received. In addition to the regular residents and visitors at that popular resort, the people of the entire surrounding country appeared to have flocked in to get a view and shake the hand of the nation's great military chieftain. The veteran Lieutenant General Scott, as a mark of particular respect to his younger but distinguished soldier confederate, donned his full military dress, and stood on the porch of his hotel awaiting the arrival of General Grant. The meeting of these two great warriors was a most interesting scene, and their interview very cordial and earnest. During the day General Grant received the honors who called to pay their respects, attended to the short time the examination exercises in the Academy, and reviewed the cadets.

A grand review of the Sixth army corps, commanded by Major General Wright, took place in Washington yesterday. The troops passed through Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the President's Mansion, and presented a splendid appearance. The line of their march was thronged with spectators. From stands in the vicinity of the White House the pageant was viewed by the President, the members of the Cabinet and a large number of other persons of distinguished positions.

Governor Fenton yesterday issued an address of welcome and congratulation to the returned and returning New York soldiers, thanking them on behalf of the people for their patriotism, valor and constancy in defense of the Union, and assuring them that the fame and glory which they have won for their State shall be cherished with equal pride by the present generation and the generations to come.

Additional numbers of discharged troops arrived in this city yesterday. Among them was the One Hundred and Twentieth New York Infantry. This regiment left last night for Kingston, Ulster county—the place of its organization.

The interesting exercises of the annual examinations of the students of the national Military Academy at West Point and the Naval Academy at Newport, R. I., are still daily continued. The attendance of the friends of the cadets and other spectators at both places is very large, and the interest of all present remains unabated. The students of both institutions are acquiring themselves in the most satisfactory manner.

Another most refreshing piece of unsophisticated rebel impudence is presented in the case of John A. Wise, brother of Henry A. Wise, of Virginia. This man, who admits that his four sons had been in the rebel army till their surrender, and that he and his family had done all they could towards the success of the rebellion, recently wrote to General Gordon, commanding at Norfolk, demanding that the government should supply him and his family with farming implements, horses and seeds, claiming a restoration of his citizenship rights, and complaining of his sufferings and losses during the war, and that his sons were not allowed to wear their rebel uniforms. General Gordon's reply to this impudent scoundrel gave him to understand that he and his sons had been traitors to the government, and were entitled to no favors from it, but would receive such as in its leniency it might see proper to grant.

John Minor Botts arrived in Richmond on the 5th inst. There are rumors there that he intends to oppose the policy of Governor Pierpont's administration, and also that he will be a candidate for the United States Senate. The late rebel Governor of Virginia, William Smith, has not yet been arrested, though it is said that he was recently in the vicinity of Richmond.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

Later and important intelligence from South and Central America reached us in our despatches by the steamship Costa Rica, which arrived here yesterday, from Aspinwall on the 31st ult. The Costa Rica brought over half a million dollars in specie. The revolution in Peru was in full progress, but the government forces had obtained important successes over the insurgents, and it was thought that the latter would have to succumb, as they were very deficient in leaders, discipline and financial resources. A military and naval force sent against the revolutionists at Arica succeeded, after a warm engagement, in dispersing them of that place and dispersing them. From Chile we have confirmation of previous reports that a demand has been made on that republic by Spain for satisfaction for the inconvenience suffered by the Spanish squadron during the Peruvian troubles, is not being allowed to obtain supplies in Chilean ports. No hostile ships, however, had yet been taken by the commander of the Spanish fleet in the Chilean waters. A revolution in the interest of General Barrios, the President, and against President, the present executive, had broken out in the republic of Salvador, and was rapidly spreading. The towns of La Union and San Miguel had been captured by the revolutionists, and they had fair prospects of complete success. The Panama Railroad had passed the House of Representatives of the Colombian Congress, and was before the Senate.

Previous reports to the effect that President Juarez, of Mexico, had issued letters of marque for reprisals on French commerce are reiterated by a Panama newspaper. It says the letters intended to authorize privateering in the Pacific waters were granted several weeks ago, but those for the Atlantic more recently.

The case of the government versus one hundred and twenty bales of cotton, which was commenced in the United States District Court, before Judge Benedict, on the 24th inst., was concluded yesterday and given to the jury. It is claimed that this cotton was brought to this city from Texas by the defendants in violation of the Non-Intercourse act.

In the case of Henry H. Sterling versus James W. Scott, before Judge Robertson, of the Superior Court, where the plaintiff sued to recover two thousand dollars damages on account of an alleged severe beating received at the hands of the defendant, the jury yesterday brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, but assessed the damages as low as fifty dollars.

The Strong divorce case, which was set down for yesterday, was postponed until to-day. The case will probably go over until Monday, as Friday is generally devoted to short cases.

In the Court of General Sessions yesterday Hugh Donnelly, Mathew Nally and Thomas Hogan, charged with stealing a wagon valued at forty dollars, owned by Patrick Walcott, on the 18th of May, pleaded guilty to petty larceny, and were sent to the Penitentiary for six months. Paul Volmer was convicted of picking the pocket of Henry Strauss of a watch, at Jones Wood, on the 25th of May. He was remanded for sentence. Catharine Hagan, charged with stealing two hundred dollars worth of wearing apparel from Mrs. Pauline Reinhardt, 11 Lamartine place, on the 17th of May, pleaded guilty. The Recorder sent her to the State Prison for one year. James Burke was tried and convicted of larceny from the person, he having been jointly charged with John Fry in attempting to rob Jeremiah Fahy, on the night of the 24th of May. The complainant was in an unconscious state on a stoop in Division street, when two officers detected the accused parties in the act of robbing him. Burke, who was tried separately, was sentenced to the State Prison for four years. James Delany and Peter Terrance, sailors, charged with stealing forty dollars worth of clothing from Beny Mandem, 22 Catherine slip, pleaded guilty to petty larceny, and were sent to the Penitentiary for two months. Ellen Bruce, charged with picking the pocket of Sophia Herzog, on a Houston street ferryboat, pleaded guilty. She was sent to the City Prison for four months and fined twenty-five dollars.

The case of the estate of the late Daniel Angervine, which presents a very interesting will contest, was recommended in the Surrogate's Court on Monday last, but has been postponed until next week, on account of the illness of the Surrogate.

The sixteenth annual regatta of the New York Yacht Club took place yesterday. There were nine entries, and eight started, viz:—Sloops Annie and Bonita, schooners Maria, Commodore Stevens, Magic, Vice Commodore Wm. H. McKivier, the Calypso, Haze, Junonia and Breeze. The yachts started from Owl's Head, crossed around the buoy at the Southwest Spit and the Lightship and returned, a distance of about forty miles. The Maria came in first, the Magic second, and the third—the two last winning the prizes, the Maria's excess of tonnage giving the advantage to the Magic. The wind was light and variable all day. The distance of the course was about forty miles, but some of the yachts must have gone nearer sixty.

Yesterday was another very hot day. The mercury in the thermometer, in the shade, stood at eighty-eight degrees at noon, and at four o'clock in the afternoon at eighty-six.

The Grand Lodge of Free Masons met for the third day yesterday. The main business transacted was the election of grand officers. The installation of officers will take place this morning at ten o'clock, and the annual session will be closed to-night.

The three days festival of the German Schutzen Corps at Jones' Wood was concluded yesterday, the attendance being much larger than on any of the previous days. After the conclusion of the shooting the prizes were distributed, and the members of the corps and their friends partook of a supper. At night music and dancing were kept up to a late hour.

The members of Warren Hose Company, of Philadelphia, visited the Park yesterday, accompanied by the Committee of Reception from 35 Hose of this city, whose guests they are, and proceeded thence to Harlem, via High Bridge, where they were received most hospitably by 21st Hose Company, of Harlem. They attended Niblo's theatre in the evening.

The new steamship Manhattan, the first vessel of the new line which is to be established between this city and Vera Cruz, went on a trial trip down the bay yesterday, and acquitted herself in a manner very satisfactory to all on board. The Manhattan is the first of her first trip for Vera Cruz, via Havana, on the 15th inst.

Last evening Mr. Gerrit Smith delivered an address in the Cooper Institute, advocating the strictest leniency to the Southern rebels. He was repeatedly interrupted by persons who pronounced questions to him, which rendered the proceedings quite noisy.

The investigation of the charges of arson against Judah Fierce, John W. Freeman, Luther N. Fuller and William Findon, the Duane street liquor dealers, was continued yesterday before Justice Bowler, at the Tombs. A considerable additional amount of testimony was taken, after which the case was further adjourned over till this afternoon.

The following cases, among others, were disposed of by the police authorities yesterday:—A colored waiter named George Peterson was committed for trial, charged with having, in company with another person who escaped arrest, attacked Dennis Connor, of Portland, Me., on Wednesday night, while passing through Wooster street, and robbed him of over one hundred dollars. Van Rensselaer Barnhart was locked up on a charge of knocking down John Lowery in the street and stealing from him forty-six dollars. John Stanton was committed for trial on charge of attempting to steal a diamond brooch, worth three hundred dollars, from Mr. Henry H. Sterling, on Wednesday night, at the Cooper Institute meeting. Charles March, a stage driver, and two men giving their names as Thomas Josh and Jefferson Boylen, were committed on complaints of burglary—the first named charged with breaking into the house No. 16 Chrystie street, on Wednesday night, and stealing therefrom nearly two hundred dollars worth of clothing and jewelry, and the latter two with breaking into and robbing the liquor store 38 Oliver street.

The coroner's investigation of the circumstances connected with the murder of the Italian, Diolati, in the woods near the Brooklyn city line, on the 27th ult., was continued yesterday. Considerable testimony was taken; but nothing has yet been developed to indicate with any degree of certainty who were the murderers. The examination will be resumed this afternoon.

The stock market was strong yesterday morning, but it subsequently declined a fraction, and closed rather feverish. Governments were dull. Gold was very firm, and closed in the street at 137½ a 138. The night closing price was 137½.

The markets were quiet yesterday as a general thing, but there were a few noteworthy exceptions. In prices there were few essential changes. Groceries were steady. Cotton was dull and heavy. On "Chicago River" a shade firmer. Wheat was a shade lower. Corn was irregular. Oats were heavy. Pork was lower. Lard was decidedly active and higher. Whiskey was rather better. Petroleum was in active speculative demand, and large sales were reported. Freight was without change. The on-gas was weak. Liverpool, 10½ to 11½. Hamburg, 10½ to 11½. Bremen, 10½ to 11½. London, 10½ to 11½. New York, 10½ to 11½. Philadelphia, 10½ to 11½.
